Death Toll In Munitions Ship Blast May Reach 372

Total Injured May Reach 500, Fifty Seriously

Estimate 200 Naval Personnel Among Injured In Port Chicago Disaster

NOT A BUILDING ESCAPED DAMAGE

Martial Law Virtually Declared As Military Takes Over Town

PORT CHICAGO, Cal., July 19.—(INS)—The toll of dead from the explosion of two ammunition ships at Port Chicago was revised upward today in a Navy announcement that 322 men and possibly as many as 372 died in the mighty earth-shaking blast.

The nation's worst wartime disaster also brought injuries to at least 500 men, women and children, including an estimated 200 naval personnel and marines, about fifty of whom were seriously hurt.

Most of the dead were working on the ships and on the mile-long Port Chicago dock when the terrific explosion late Monday night destroyed all life over an area of many yards from the core of the blast.

The Navy announced that only four bodies, partially shielded from the devastating rush of the concussion, had been found after a search of more than 24 hours.

Officers said they expect to find the remains of few if any more victims among the rubble, debris and wreckage of what was once a humming naval installation, 40 miles northeast of San Francisco on Suisun Bay.

Virtual martial law was being enforced in the explosion shattered town of Port Chicago, where not a single building home or store escaped heavy damage or complete destruction.

Some danger still exists in the explosion town region, authorities explained, because literally hundreds of unexploded shells and fuses were flung around the countryside as far as two miles from the naval magazine. Many other unexploded missiles lay at the bottom of Suisun Bay.

PA NEWC Observes

From one friend of birds comes the suggestion to save and dry melon seeds during the melon season and store them to put out next winter as food for cardinals.

One of the prettiest balcony flower boxes around is one on the house at the corner of Highland and Wallace in which coral pink geraniums and Heavenly Blue morning glories bloom.

One of the chief virtues (and some meanies say its only one) of the Ailanthus tree is its ability to thrive under adverse growing conditions. This it is proving at the present time. Pa Newc has seen hundreds of young ones coming on along sidewalks, between houses and in odd corners all over the downtown section.

Romeo Caldara, of 306 Vine street, brought the first tomato worm of the season to the office of The News this morning. The big green worm, with a horn projecting from his tail, had already eaten most of two tomato plants before he was discovered. Tomato worms are a dark green in color, and are very voracious.

Picnic outings are still the most popular diversion for families, and Cascade Park already this season has had quite a large share of these old time get-togethers.

Tuesday afternoon, Pa Newc rode the bus to and from Mahoningtown, on Long Avenue to Moravia street. (Continued on Page Two)

Allied War Machine Shifting Into High

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Exclusively for U. S. S.)
NEW YORK, July 19.—The great United Nations' pincer attack against Hitler's fortress Europe was picking up speed today.

Stalin's legions from the east are crashing through in great spearheads aimed at Berlin via East Prussia, Brest, Litzk and Lwow. General Montgomery's Allied armies in Normandy have smashed into the plains of France to the south of Caen and St. Lo.

It has been proclaimed that the successes of the British 2nd Army at Caen and the American 1st at St. Lo signalize the commencement of the battle of Paris. However, General Eisenhower may desire to delay a full swing drive towards Paris until possibly the present beachhead is enlarged to include two ports of entry. Allied plans

Barkley Possibility If He Can Stampede Delegates With Nominating Speech

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, July 19.—The Democratic national convention assembled in Chicago today to nominate President Roosevelt for a fourth term despite a southern revolt and to give him Senator Harry S. Truman of Missouri as a running-mate over spirited opposition from Vice President Henry A. Wallace.

Wallace Dropped
The president dropped Wallace from the New Deal by personally approving the choice of Truman after the Wallace forces killed off a boom for War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes of South Carolina.

There remained a bare possibility that Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky—Mr. Roosevelt's senate leader—might capture the second-place nomination if he can stampede the convention with his speech placing Roosevelt in nomination for the presidency.

Barkley was an early favorite but the Byrnes candidacy ran him into the earth. Byrnes, in turn, was "blitzed" by the Wallace forces when Sidney Hillman, head of the (Continued on Page Two)

ALBANY, N. Y., July 19.—Governor Thomas E. Dewey today completed a lengthy conference with Rep. James J. Wadsworth, one of the elder statesmen of the Republican party in New York state, who will play a major role in national military affairs if his party wins control of the Congress next November.

Wadsworth came to Albany yesterday for a talk with the Republican presidential nominee, had dinner at the executive mansion and conferred with Governor Dewey until early this morning.

MOSCOW, July 19.—Russia's first Ukrainian army, in a gigantic new offensive that has cracked German defenses on a 124-mile front in southeastern Poland, hammered forward today to within 23 miles of Lwow while other Soviet forces to the north closed in to less than nine miles from Brest-Litovsk.

(The London Daily Telegraph said German reports indicated the Russians have already reached Brest-Litovsk.)

Liberate 600 Towns
An official Soviet communiqué confirming German reports of a great new Russian push in the Tarnopol-Luck region, revealed that Marshal Ivan S. Konev's forces had liberated more than 600 towns and villages in an electrifying three-day drive that began Sunday.

Smashing gains of as much as 31 miles were scored by Russian forces as they thrust spearheads into the town of Kamenska, 23 miles north of Lwow; Busk, 27 miles northeast of that vital rail junction city, and Krasny, a rail junction 27 miles to the east.

Simultaneously, Soviet White Russian and Baltic armies captured well over 440 additional towns and villages in their drives against Latvia, Lithuania, East Prussia and Central Poland.

Pointless Beef Brings Argument

OPA Disapproves Of Order Taking Most Beef From Ration List August 1

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Officials of the War Foods and Price Administrations were engaged in an interagency dispute today over WPA's order to remove most beef steaks and roasts from rationing and to restore point values to hams and pork loins.

The WPA order to OPA was scheduled to be effective August 1, but it was reported that further discussions would be held on the price agency's request for a postponement of the effective date.

Bringing into the open the dispute between the two agencies, WPA filed the order with the federal register. WPA officials were reluctant to discuss the dispute but it was made clear that a controversy had erupted over meat supplies. (Continued on Page Two)

St. Lo Pounded By German Fire

By CLARK LEE
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH AMERICAN FIRST ARMY FORCES AT ST. LO, France, July 19.—St. Lo is one of the hottest spots on earth today.

German artillery is continuously pouring in round after round of shells into the American-occupied communications hub, knocking already battered buildings into smaller pieces.

Americans in the town completing mopping up operations found only a few Germans hiding in cellars. Captives were taken in groups of three and four and they reported that the main Nazi forces had withdrawn to the hills to the south.

It was the 150th regiment whose infantry and armored tank force took the town while the 34th regiment was entering from the northwest.

It also is permissible now to disclose that the 90th division is fighting in Normandy.

THIS SIGN POINTS TO PARIS

British Tommies, who were among the first to enter the captured city of Caen, come upon a signboard in a wrecked street that points toward Paris and other French towns. Jap Defenses On Guam Given Pounding Today

Heavy Guns Of Pacific Fleet Pound Former U. S. Possession Mercilessly

JAP PRISONERS ON SAIPAN 1,620

By RICHARD V. HALLER
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, July 19.—Mighty units of the United States Pacific fleet menaced battered Jap defenses on Guam today as American control of the Marianas waters was highlighted by disclosure of the second consecutive day's attack on the former American possession by a naval force comprising battleships, cruisers, destroyers, and lighter surface ships.

The latest attack was carried out Sunday according to an announcement from Admiral Chester W. Nimitz's Pacific fleet headquarters.

Guam Pounded
Heavy guns of the Pacific fleet task force pounded Guam under the direction of spotter aircraft which encountered some resistance from enemy anti-aircraft fire.

Light surface units of the American force closed in on the island and quickly neutralized the Jap ack-ack batteries as ships of the line continued their devastating bombardment of enemy installations.

Nimitz also disclosed that triumphant American marines and army infantrymen on Saipan Island had 1,620 Japanese military prisoners as of July 16 and had interned 13,800 civilians, mostly Japs. This by far outstrips any previous numbers of prisoners taken in the Pacific war.

A few remaining enemy snipers are still being hunted down on Saipan, Nimitz said. American aircraft based on Saipan as well as field artillery on the former Jap stronghold are continuing their neutralization of enemy defenses on nearby Tinian Island.

Workers And Housing Needed For War Work

Lawrence county faces a problem today that calls for the attention of every citizen in it, a problem that needs aggressive and immediate action if it is to be solved. The problem is this: Lawrence county needs 2,000 new employees within the next 60 days and a total of 3,600 within the next four months for vital war work.

With the need for workers comes a need for housing, unless all the workers can be secured within Lawrence county, which seems out of the question. In order to ascertain how many workers can be obtained in the county and what housing facilities may be secured for those who come in, a survey is to be conducted. Because of the binding necessity for speed in the survey, it will be conducted by a printed questionnaire which will be printed in The News on July 25th and 26th and also in other papers of the county. These questionnaires should be mailed in to the Wartime Employment and Housing Survey Headquarters in the Greater New Castle association not later than the night of July 26th.

War Work Need
The problem is purely a wartime problem. Orders have come in to Lawrence county industries for war materials, principally shells. They are to be used by the American armies in their battle against the Axis. They must be provided if the war is to be won.

Not a man or woman in Lawrence county who is able to work and is not working should let this call go (Continued on Page Two)

British Troops Push Nazis Back

Smashing Offensive Near Caen Called "Battle For France"

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

SUPREMACY HQ ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 19.—The Germans in Normandy were hammered back south and east of Caen today by the British second army which pressed a large-scale offensive under cover of mighty allied aerial support.

Headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower disclosed that the Germans were throwing into combat all available armored and infantry forces in an attempt to seal the breach smashed into their Orne river defense line at Caen.

"Battle For France"
The London Daily Mail, commenting on the smashing offensive declared that "The great battle for France has begun."

An official spokesman at headquarters said that the large-scale operation undertaken by Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery to smash into the plans beyond Caen was "progressing successfully."

Fierce fighting raged in the Faubourg de Vaucelles, across the Orne river opposite Caen.

Furious encounters also were in progress on the plain south and east of Caen where the Nazi high command threw in strong armored formations in an attempt to block the breach torn into the main German position.

Terrific fighting was taking place on some streets of Faubourg de Vaucelles which headquarters said had been cleared from the north to the railroad.

Southwest of Caen, in the Juigny area south of Tilly-sur-Seuilles, Lt. Gen. Miles C. Dempsey's ground forces advanced a half-mile against German forces fighting desperately to retain their hold on Noyers.

British Commander Estimates 156,000 Germans Put Out Of Action

By JOHN E. LEE
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MONTGOMERY'S HEADQUARTERS IN NORMANDY, July 19.—(INS)—Beaming with satisfaction, Gen. Sir Bernard Law Montgomery met correspondents at his battlefield headquarters today with the cheering disclosure that since D-day on June 6, Allied forces in France have put 156,000 German soldiers out of action.

The wary commander and Allied ground forces in Europe, wearing his customary gray sweater and black beret, was in an obviously satisfied mood.

Bleeding Joe
Allied forces in Normandy, Italy and Russia, he said, "are successfully bleeding the German military machine to death."

In the six weeks since the invasion, Gen. Montgomery said, Allied troops have buried 8,000 dead and captured 60,000 prisoners.

"Counting dead, wounded and prisoners," he added, "it is a reasonable conjecture that we have wiped off 156,000 Germans."

ROME, July 19.—Veteran American troops of Lieut. Gen. Mark Wayne Clark's Fifth Army today smashed ferocious German resistance to capture the city of Livorno (Leghorn), the third greatest port in Italy which lies only 250 miles southwest of the Brenner Pass—southern gateway to Nazi Germany.

With Polish troops of the Eighth Army in firm possession of Ancona, the Allies now threaten the Pisa to Rimini "Gothic line" believed to be the last formidable barrier before the Nazis' last ditch Italian defenses in the Po river valley.

Butler Democrat Heads Delegates

Former Judge Wilson Named Leader Of Pennsylvanians At Democratic Convention

CHICAGO, July 19.—(INS)—Former Judge John H. Wilson, of Butler, Pa., took over his duties as chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation to the Democratic national convention today as sessions opened at the huge indoor Chicago stadium.

"I have but one great hope in my mind," Wilson told the Keystone state delegates shortly after being elected at a caucus in the Hotel Sherman.

"That is that our great commander-in-chief be re-elected, that he win the war and that he be instrumental in establishing a lasting peace."

Other Officers
Mrs. Sara T. Bullock, of Delaware county, and Joseph Ominsky of Philadelphia, are assisting Wilson as vice chairman and secretary of the delegation, respectively.

The following Pennsylvania delegates are chosen to represent the state contingent on these convention committees:

Platform and resolutions, U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey and his sister Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller; credentials, I. Dana Kable, Knox; permanent organization, James Clark Philadelphia; rules, Hugh J. Brady, Lackawanna county, committee to notify the presidential candidate of his nomination, Ambrose J. Mulligan, Erie; to verify the vice presidential nominee, Clarence F. Bowlers, Berks county.

Honorary convention officers were named as follows:

Honorary vice president, J. David Stern, Philadelphia; assistant vice president, Rev. Marshall Sheppard, Philadelphia; secretary, David J. McDonald, Pittsburgh; assistant secretary, Peter Margie, Luzerne county.

Will it be Mister Wallace or will Truman get the break, will Henry's eyes be filled with tears, will Henry be filled with ache, or will he burst right in and be the nominee again, for Henry likes the job it seems and he has got a yen to be elected with his boss, who'll win the nomination, but things can happen overnight to set up consternation. But anyhow the Dems are in Chicago for a time, to nominate their candidates, the weather's seventy-nine.

Anti-New Dealers Gird For Battle

By WILLIAM THIES
U.S. Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, July 19.—The Democratic convention resolutions committee winds up its public hearings today on a foreign policy keynote but with the burning issue of how strong to make its now-assured racial equality plank dominating deliberations behind the scenes.

Mrs. J. Borden Harrison, foreign minister to Norway, was scheduled as the principal witness on the foreign policy question before the committee, headed by House Majority Leader John W. McCormack, pushes up its platform for submission to the convention Thursday.

But it was the racial anti-discrimination plank, with its dynamic-laden implications in the presidential election year, which provided the major headache for committee members.

Originally, the party had considered making no mention of the race issue in the platform but to content itself with standing on the record of the Roosevelt administration.

The alternative to the present concession would be to include specific declarations for anti-poll tax and anti-lynch laws. Party leaders considered it unlikely that even the present pressure from Negro groups would bring inclusion of a pledge for a permanent fair employment practice committee, a point bitterly opposed by southern Democrats.

Germany Changes Command Of Troops

LONDON, July 19.—(INS)—The German commander of Belgium and northern France, Col. Gen. Alexander von Falkenhausen, was reported by the Nazi DNB agency today to have been replaced in a move in which the military government was replaced by a civilian administration.

Von Falkenhausen's successor in the military sphere was named as Infantry Gen. Grosse, who will be under the orders of Field Marshal Guenther von Kluge, Nazi commander in western Europe. His civilian duties, DNB said, will be handled by 42-year-old Josef Grohe, gauleiter of the Cologne-Aachen district of Germany.

No reason was given for the changes and no mention was made of any new assignment for Von Falkenhausen.

May See Lewis
The action of the United Mine Workers' journal in recommending the Dewey-Bricker ticket to American labor revived reports today that Governor Dewey, during his visit to Pittsburgh on July 31, might talk with John L. Lewis, head of the mine workers' union, although there was no confirmation of the reports from the governor's office.

Mrs. Dewey has announced, however, that he intends to talk with leaders of labor, business and agriculture about the problems facing the country while he is in Pittsburgh.

The Republican presidential nominee did not say whether he will listen on the radio to the proceedings at the Democratic national convention, which gets underway at Chicago today, nor would he indicate whether he will have any comment when President Roosevelt's nomination for a fourth term becomes an accomplished fact.

Governor Dewey plans to spend the time of the Democratic convention on state business and in completing his program of conferences and campaigning for the next several months. He has yet to decide when he will deliver his first campaign speech, but the general belief is that it will not be before mid-September, unless unexpected developments force his hand prior to that time.

ATTEMPT ESCAPE, JAPS MOWED DOWN

It is estimated that about 40,000 of the original force of 60,000 officers and men of the Jap 18th army still remain in the Wevax region.

Continuing air and sea attacks against their inland and coastal positions have disrupted the Japs efforts to get set for a new offensive against the Aitape perimeter, which runs about 20 miles below the township of Aitape itself.

Twin-engine Mitchell bombers and light bombers unloaded 65 more tons of bombs with "good effect" on enemy troop concentrations in the Wevax area, while naval units shelled coastal targets at Matapau and night patrol vessels destroyed or damaged three Jap barges.

Other Allied planes, ranging over targets in the Dutch East Indies as well as Dutch New Guinea, sank or damaged seven enemy vessels and a number of barges.

SENATOR TRUMAN PROBABLE CHOICE FOR SECOND PLACE

CIO political action committee, and Philip Murray, CIO president, sent personal protests to Mr. Roosevelt charging that his nomination would cost the New Deal many northern votes.

Neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Senator Truman will be nominated without opposition.

The president's opposition comes largely from the south, with representatives from eight southern states holding several sessions to condemn the New Deal and a fourth term. Their opposition candidate will be Senator Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia.

Much Opposition
There will be much more opposition to Truman's nomination. At the moment, 11 names are to be submitted to the convention in opposition to Truman. The list includes: Wallace, Barkley, Senator Robert D. Thomas of Utah, Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, Senator Samuel D. Jackson of Indiana, the temporary chairman, Senator John H. Bankhead of Alabama, former Governor Dan Moody of Texas—turning the floor for Byrd—Governor Prentiss Cooper of Tennessee and Governor J. Melville Broughton of North Carolina.

Early this morning, Wallace actually led Truman in pledged votes. He had 147 to 139 for Truman with 20 pledged to Byrnes and 20 more to O'Mahoney. The Wallace lead will be wiped out as more state delegations caucus.

It can now be told that Byrnes was actually the president's first choice as a running mate. It develops that Edward T. Flynn, the New York leader, had protested this selection on the ground that the Byrnes was a trouble carrying New York, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Ohio, New Jersey and Illinois with Byrnes as his running-mate.

Summons Leaders
Despite this protest, the president summoned Flynn, Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City and Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago to a White House conference last week, and flatly informed them that Byrnes was his choice. The president reportedly told his party leaders that:

"I will say nothing publicly about Jimmy but I believe he is the best qualified man in the United States for the position of vice president. He would make a fine president if anything happened to me."

The party leaders bowed to Roosevelt's insistence and promised to try to nominate Byrnes. They did try but the Hillman-Murray-Wallace forces proved too strong.

Then convention leaders went into a new huddle. They communicated with the party by long distance telephone and offered him a choice between Barkley and Truman. The president chose Truman.

The Truman bandwagon was christened when one of the convention leaders emerged from the conference and informed that the New Deal Service that Truman would "quite likely be nominated on an early ballot."

WORKERS NEEDED FOR WAR WORK

unheeded, Lawrence county workers who are employed in non-essential jobs outside the county are asked to return and do war work here.

Women who can accept employment are asked to do so and men who are unemployed need not be. There is a job for everyone willing and able to work.

Through the survey it is hoped to provide more man hours locally, induce local residents now working out of the county on non-essential jobs to return, and to provide all possible places of housing, homes, apartments and rooms.

The program of war work will benefit the government because it will help to win the war. It will help the individual who takes the job, it will help the merchants and professional men through increased purchasing power, it will help home owners who rent part of their homes, through an increased revenue to them.

The questionnaire which will appear on July 25th and 26th will contain questions covering all phases of the question. These questionnaires should be considered in the light of a request from the government for information, for that is what they are. They should be mailed not later than the night of July 26th.

This is one of the toughest problems Lawrence county has ever faced. Workers are needed housing facilities are needed for workers brought in from outside. The answer to the questions should be a personal responsibility for every citizen of the county.

The WFA action apparently took OPA officials by surprise and they did not conceal their disapproval of it.

Tells OPA
Heretofore the WFA has informed the OPA of potential supplies of meat available for rationing and the price control agency has worked out the point values. This time, however, OPA was told what to do.

WFA officials said they anticipated a heavy run of beef within a short time, while pork supplies were falling off to some extent, August, they explained, normally is a low month in the marketing of hogs, which usually picks up again by October and continues at a heavy rate through February.

With ration point charts for August about ready to go to press, OPA officials doubted they would be able to institute the changes in time. They expressed hope that the effective date of the order would be changed.

PA NEWCO Observes

the going is quite rough and tough, and all passengers got a good bone shaking. The bus driver remarked: "Everybody hold on to their false teeth." It will be fine when it receives a coat of amesite before winter.

The lifting gust of wind that has been blowing so constantly through the South Jefferson street entrance to the Post Office the past two days, has put the women folks on the alert, Pa Newco noticed.

Sultry nights have made from porches most inviting to residents. Pa Newco noticed this morning en route to work. One chap asleep on the swing was hitting on high with snoring honors and passersby were greatly amused.

With gasoline rationing and the form of amusement being somewhat restricted, Pa Newco in a check up finds that much fun is derived from packing that old picnic basket and going to some nearby shady spot for a snack.

Three lads in typical "Huckleberry Finn" clothes, were seen in the vicinity of Walnut street with fishing poles over their shoulders heading for a close by stream for a few hours fun.

Seize Skomorokhi
Other Russian units seized the town of Skomorokhi, 50 miles north of Brest-Litovsk, and reached the border set up by Germany and Russia in 1939 after their partition of Poland.

(A Moscow dispatch received by Reuters said that the Red army is within shelling distance of the railway connecting Bialystok with Brest-Litovsk, and is widening its breakthrough on the front parallel to the railway.)

More than 7,000 Germans were slain in Tuesday's fighting along the flaming 650-mile battlefront, 2,000 in raging battles at the approach to Brest-Litovsk, while vast amounts of booty were seized.

Hundreds of enemy tanks and 700 motor vehicles were destroyed or damaged as the Russians broke through the Prince Eugen line. The Vladimir-Volynsky-Lwow north-south railroad, which links up with the Kovel-Lublin-Warsaw line, was severed at several points.

Spearheads of Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's first White Russian army occupied the town of Gaynovka, within 16 miles of the railway linking Brest-Litovsk and Lwow, which are respectively 110 miles east and 210 miles southeast of Warsaw.

BRITISH ON MOVE

LONDON, July 19.—(INS)—The German high command declared today that the Allies in Normandy have "gone over to a great offensive east of the Orne" and added that the British "have succeeded in breaking into our lines."

FESTUNG EUROPA SHOWING CRACKS

Prussia, the Russians have many miles to cover and many Nazis to kill before the frontiers of Pomerania, Brandenburg or Silesia are approached.

There is now the possibility of a race for victory unparalleled in the history of warfare by three armies for the glory of being the first to crash through the inner defenses of Hitler's homeland.

Russians Lead
The Russians cannot fail to draw first blood. They will be in East Prussia long before the allies can reach the Reich from the west or south.

Germany proper is the goal of all three forces, all pounding with steadily increasing velocity toward the heart and core of Nazi imperialism and aggression.

While the Germans fell back from Livorno, hoodwinked and outnumbered into preparing for an all-frontal attack instead of the successful flanking movement that developed, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery gave his first detailed picture of the great triumphs already achieved by the allies in Normandy.

Since the invasion of France on June 6, the commander-in-chief of allied ground forces said, the allies have disposed of 156,000 German troops.

Of this number 8,000 have been buried and 60,000 taken prisoner. The balance are missing or casualties. In effect, more than ten and possibly 12 of Hitler's best divisions have been eliminated from the war and against this, the wily little general said, allied casualties have been almost negligible.

Even with St. Lo captured and British and Canadian armor well out on the level ground east of Caen, spoiling for a showdown battle with Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's mechanized army, a great deal remains to be done, Montgomery said.

But he bristled with confidence.

Daylight Raid Made On Munich
LONDON, July 19.—(INS)—The German DNB agency said that Munich, the birthplace of Nazism, was raided by daylight today.

Early DNB reported "very violent" air battles raging between American and German planes south of Munich.

Choose Now ... While Need Is Not Urgent ...

People hesitate to think of the time when a funeral must be arranged. Yet it is better to consider a distasteful subject than to wish afterwards that you had.

The need for making funeral arrangements comes so seldom that few have much knowledge of either funeral service or funeral establishments. That is why one should investigate and choose a funeral director while there is no urgent need.

Those desiring information are invited to call. Our Home for Funerals always is open to inspection and inquiries carry no obligation to employ our services.

DANGER! Cake Make-up May Cause Dry Skin, Coarse Pore-Mouths, Science Warns!

Cake make-up applied wet hardens in pore-openings—may help stretch them—cause blemishes and little bumps you can feel with your finger-tips.

For that "baby-texture look" without danger, try Lady Esther Face Powder!

Are you using cake make-up on your lovely, delicate skin? If so, here's something I'd like you to consider before you use it even once more!

Run your finger-tips gently over your skin. Does it feel a little dry and rough, a little flaky—a little bumpy here or there?

Now examine your skin carefully, in bright sunlight! Is it as fresh and young-looking as you want it to be—or does it look even a little older than you are? Is it beginning to look a little coarse—bumps here and there?

Why let this tragic thing happen to your lovely skin—even for one more evening? You don't have to risk these dangers to get the smooth, flawless texture you want. You can get a much lovelier effect—without danger—a softer, fresher, far more appealing look to your skin—with Lady Esther Face Powder! And its flattery will stay with you 4 long hours at a time.

Why it gives a Baby-Texture look to Your Skin

Lady Esther Face Powder is made an entirely new way. It's blown by the force and speed of hurricanes, instead of being just mixed or sifted. As a result it is smoother and finer than face powder has ever been before. It flatters your skin with a film of beauty, hiding little lines and blemishes—giving that smooth, even "flawless" look you want. It has what I call a "baby texture" for it seems to create a delicate, baby-fine smoothness on the surface of your skin. Men love it!

Try Lady Esther Face Powder in one of its 9 different, exciting shades. Get the smallest-size box if you like, but try it! See for yourself why more lovely women now use Lady Esther Face Powder than any other kind!

What is your experience with cake make-up? Write me 1412 W. 64th St., Chicago, Ill.

Delegate Contests Reported Settled

CHICAGO, July 19.—(INS)—Sen. Abe Murdock of Utah who is slated to be chairman of the Democratic Credentials committee said today that he has been informed that both threatened Texas and South Carolina delegations contests will be dropped.

According to my information it will only be necessary for the credentials committee to hold a brief meeting and recommend that the temporary role of delegates be made the permanent role of the convention. Murdock said.

The regular anti-New Deal Texas delegation was placed on the temporary role by the Democratic National committee as was the regular white delegation from South Carolina. A pro-Roosevelt Texas delegation threatened to carry a fight before the convention to oust anti-New Dealers but were reported to have abandoned the contest on the advice of party leaders in the interest of harmony.

An all Negro South Carolina delegation threatened the same contest but leaders were able to get a withdrawal.

By MARQUIS CHILDS

CHICAGO, July 19.—Someone is going to have to take this convention and shake it sharply by the scruff of the neck. You get a feeling it is directionless.

That may be merely by contrast with the Republican rally held in this city earlier. The great old party had things under control, with minor exceptions, from start to finish.

It's all right to boast about letting democracy work in the choice of a vice-president, but that can very easily be carried too far.

Plenty of Candidates
Vice-presidential candidates are pushing up like daisies in the spring. Probably never before was there such a hopeful crop. If it was not for the solemn frame of the war, with its overhanging implications for all of us, this convention would probably look very funny.

Ordinarily, the business of picking a man for the number 2 position is settled by a half dozen people in a hotel room with the presidential candidate. Often, as with the Republican convention of three weeks ago, it's a question of cornering the victim and making him take it. A lot of persuasion was used on John Bricker before he surrendered. Among the delegates this time is a sense that the vice-presidential nomination is far more important than ever before. For a variety of reasons, it seems to me they're right. It's a feeling shared by President Roosevelt himself.

The very fact that so many claimants have sprung up gives Wallace a better chance than he had a few days ago. He will go into the convention with a considerable amount of strength. On the second ballot some favorite son delegations, such as that of North Carolina, are likely to turn to him. Besides his cabinet position, he seems to have strong backing in the western states where he has won a genuine grassroots popularity.

Other Candidates
Almost any other candidates you can name would come in as the choice of the bosses rather than the rank and file. It would be a compromise of expediency in the hope of catching independent voters on the right.

But this thing cuts both ways. To drop Henry Wallace would be to displease millions of voters for whom he is a symbol of the New Deal. While they may not go to Dewey, there is a real possibility that their indifference might cause them to stay home on election day.

The Wallace issue illustrates once again the dilemma of the two old parties. They are both split right down the middle. In both are the most disparate and incongruous elements.

One of the strongest arguments that can be made for Wallace is that he fits the pattern of a liberalized Democratic party. His nomination would mean a firm rejection of middle-of-the-road neutrality. The voters this fall would have a much sharper choice if Wallace were on the ticket.

I should think that even southern might welcome it, for it points the way toward a two-party system in the south. It suggests a split along lines that would mean something—liberal and conservative, say.

Alienate Independents
The argument of Democratic leaders opposing Wallace is that his nomination would alienate independent voters who want to keep FDR in command of the war but cannot tolerate the vice-president's chances of re-election would be jeopardized. They argue that the paramount necessity is to keep Roosevelt as commander-in-chief so that he can win the peace as well as the war.

Apparently Harold Young, the big cigar-chewing politico who is not merely Wallace's secretary but his mentor, has persuaded the vice-president to stay in Washington. That's a good thing, since Henry is definitely not the smoke-filled room type. In a salubrious of boys, he's the proverbial fish out of water.

Part of the lack of direction you feel here may be due to the confidence that Roosevelt can possibly lose. But part of it may be due to indifference. Indifference is a disease which the Democrats are going to have to fight all the way along.

BRIEFING LIFE
Brief life for all about to start? What lies beyond for them to find? Well, there are triumphs of the heart.

And they are won by being kind. And they are won by being fair. And putting prejudice aside. By standing honestly to care.

In self-reliance taking pride. Past doubt, there will be tears to shed. When only rugged faith will aid. For all must stand beside their dead. Since 'twas to die that man was made.

There will be difficulties, too. The source of all achievement they'll find. The old will break before the new. Since settled life can never stay. So keep your faith and trust in grace.

The good in others try to see. In all that's ventured do your share. And loved and honored you will be.

Dress the chickens as for cooking. Don't break the gall bladder as this will spoil the flavor of chicken by making it bitter. Wash chicken well and cut into small serving pieces. Trim off lumps of fat, leaving only enough for flavor. Too much fat slows up the penetration of heat in the jar.

Sort chicken into three piles—the neck pieces, the bony pieces and the meat pieces. Cook the meat pieces in the oven or in water until pink color disappears (about 8 to 10 minutes), pack into jars, add a half teaspoon of salt to each pint and a teaspoon to a quart. Process pint jars 65 minutes in pressure cooker at 15 pounds pressure or 180 minutes in boiling water bath. Quart jars require 75 minutes in pressure cooker or 210 minutes in boiling water bath.

The bony pieces can be used for soup or broth and the giblets can be precooked, packed separately into pint jars, and processed 85 minutes in pressure cooker or 180 minutes in boiling water bath.

Chicken that is canned in the boiling water bath must be boiled 10 minutes before tasting, remind Miss Simpson. If it is to be used cold, it must first be boiled and then cooled.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BUDGETING TEEN-AGE MONEY

DEAR DR. MYERS:—Our son, 16, will work this summer, making around $90 a month. How should he budget this? We want him to save the largest part of his money for his college education two years from now. He will have a co-op course and study electrical engineering. We plan that as if there were no war!

"The boy is active in church work, president of the young people's department, etc. He goes to parties on week-ends, has a girl. Ours is an ordinary family. The father is an electrician. I do supply teaching. There are two younger sisters. A stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed."

I replied about as follows: You might suggest to the lad that he set aside five dollars a month for mere pleasures, such as movies, parties, refreshments, etc., and the same amount for contributions for church, young people's organization, Red Cross, etc. He would do very well and be one young man of three thousand, perhaps. If he budgeted so for contributions, and would be almost as exceptional were he to allow no more than five dollars a month for pleasures.

Saving From Salary
In case he put the rest into War Savings, you might be able to exchange cash for them or he to borrow against them for college. If he should still be needed in the armed forces the savings would be precious for him on his return, to enter college. Of course, he might prefer to put his money into a savings account at once.

If he has been accustomed to buy his clothing or part of it from his allowance or earnings, a reasonable amount based on his moderate clothing needs over the last year could be budgeted. His saving for college might, however, prove more attractive to him if you were to take care of his clothes now. Unless he helps his mother with the family wash, in case she does it, he should also budget for his personal laundry to be sent out.

Of course, the average youth on a job might groan over the foregoing suggestions. But if he has been brought up in thrift and in wise use of money and if, moreover, he has a powerful urge to go to college he might be willing to cooperate. The same applies to the art of college mind on a full-time job in summer or part-time in winter.

Training in Thrift
Looking ahead to college or not the earning teen-age youth should, if necessary, be required by his parents to set aside by far the larger proportion of the earnings for essential needs and savings, even though it should involve having the employer send the youth's pay to the parents. For good character values to the youth, it is not so much how large his earnings are as how much of the same saved or turned to essential needs and enduring purposes. My special bulletin, "Allowances," may be had for postage by writing me at 238 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Parents of much younger children should see good reasons to train their youngsters in the wise economical use of money. Let us hope the school boys far more emphasis on this matter, too.

CAN CHICKEN NOW FOR NEXT WINTER'S MEALS
It is good news to homemakers looking ahead to next winter's chicken dinners that now is a good time to can those plump, healthy birds from the poultry flock.

Convention Harmony Key To Election Result
New Running Mate For Roosevelt Is Foreseen
Nelson Prepared To Make Fight On Conversion

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Now that President Roosevelt has announced he will accept a fourth term nomination, run for office and serve again in the White House if he is elected by the people, Democrats see convention harmony as the key to what they hope will be victory.

How the convention reacts, particularly as regards a vice-presidential nominee, will spell either success or failure at the November polls.

The president's willingness to run again surprised no one, for he was the strongest and in fact the only Democrat the party could put into the field.

Gilpin and uppermost will be the issue of the global war, but the success of the Roosevelt campaign will depend largely on the measure of unity obtained by the Democrats at the convention, which opens today in Chicago.

Wallace Seems Out
Vice President Henry A. Wallace seems definitely out of the picture to succeed himself in the eyes of most political observers. The president's "Dutch up," may seek to force Wallace on the convention, but at present it is unlikely. At any rate, Washington experts are certain it will be well nigh impossible to choose a candidate who will satisfy all factions of the party.

In the background are House Speaker Sam Rayburn, the popular Texan; Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley of Kentucky, who will nominate Mr. Roosevelt, and a host of other contenders.

And it seems obvious that no president, regardless of the fact that he wants Wallace again, eventually will bow to the will of what other wise might be a convention shredded by dissension.

Summons to rolem is the revolt of the southern Democrats against the New Deal. Such pivotal states as Texas, Virginia, Mississippi and the Carolinas may cause no end of trouble for the New Deal on the convention floor.

War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson, who is rumored to make an all-out fight for the industrial reconversion which the WPB has drafted, and he will have the equally all-out backing of the administration.

As Senator James E. Murray (D-Montana) expressed it, "We have got to win this fight."

Senator Harry S. Truman (D-Missouri) is as fully determined as Murray that the program shall go through.

War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes has approved the program, which calls for four initial steps along the road to reconverting industry to peace-time production.

Opponents May Back Down
With this kind of talent on the side of the reconversion program, the odds are heavily against the isolationists. The program will face an uphill fight when they are in a position to reconvert themselves.

Murray insists that the joint chiefs of staff are unconsciously under the influence of this viewpoint. "These men, who are busy fighting the war, are obviously not yet ready to reconvert," he says. "The state is set for a battle and from all appearances it is going to be a hot one, if not a bloody one."

BLOOD AND IRON
Iron is a very necessary part of our food. People who do not eat enough iron are usually not up to par.

Some foods have more iron in them than others. By eating foods which are rich in iron we get our share of it.

Here is a list of foods which contain iron. The richest in iron is the first in the list and they follow in order: liver, molasses, oat meal, dried apricots, eggs, wheat, raisins, parsley, beef, oysters, cabbage, nutmeg, lettuce and spinach.

Spinach seems to have a reputation for having a lot of iron. There are several foods which have more iron than spinach, but no one eats very much parsley. Spinach is perhaps better for iron because more of it is eaten at a meal.

What People Say
By International Robert W. Lovett, assistant secretary of war on his return from the French front: "I have come back from Europe convinced that the war is going to last longer than anybody back home thinks except our military people."

LONDON.—Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery believes Germany can be beaten this year: "Things are going very well, generally speaking. The great victories on the Russian front with numbers of Germans being taken are excellent."

WASHINGTON.—Erie Johnston, director of the United States Chamber of Commerce: "Only one thing can delay victory. If any of us at home—worker, employer, farmer and public servant—slackens the pace which was set after Pearl Harbor to meet the challenge of our enemies."

LOOKING AT LIFE
By ERIC BRANDLES

There is a house in our neighborhood which has been on the market for more than three years.

It is a nice house, but has several bad features which kept people from buying it.

The owner himself doesn't live in it, so it has been rented right along.

As you probably know real estate has gone up quite a bit since the war and this particular house now has increased two thousand dollars in price.

Last week a realtor friend of mine showed the house to a couple with two children.

He liked it over critically, liked it pretty well, but couldn't make up their minds to buy it—there were a few things wrong with it.

This morning I talked to my real estate friend in the little cigar shop where I get my papers.

"Well, have you heard from those people who looked at that house the other day?" I asked him.

"Yes, I have," he said with a grin. "They called me up yesterday and said they wanted to look at the place again."

"I told them I was awfully sorry, but the house had just been sold. Whereupon the woman started to cry right over the telephone."

"She would never be happy again," she said. The house was her dream house, exactly what they had always wanted, and they never completely. Couldn't I get the owner to release it to them, even if they had to pay a thousand dollars more?"

"I said I'd try. I did and was turned down. And now the woman, who couldn't make up her mind when she could have had the house, acts as if I had cheated her!"

I told my real-estate friend that that was only human nature.

When you have something or when you can have it, you don't appreciate it.

The other day my wife gave an old dress that I hadn't worn in three years and never liked, to the Salvation Army.

You should have heard the back I raised when she told me about it.

"That wonderful suit!" I yelled. "The sweetest suit I ever had! How do you like it?"

So my wife got the suit back for me.

She had it pressed and hung it in my closet right where I couldn't miss it.

I wore it yesterday, just to show her how nice it was.

When I got to the office a friend said: "Why don't you give that shabby looking suit to the Salvation Army?"

I think I will.

JUST DESIRE FOR POWER

The Internationalists continue their mad drive for World Government. They bitterly denounce American Isolationists and infer that American Isolationism is the sole obstacle to the accomplishment of their wild-eyed dream of World Government. It seems strange that the Internationalists talk only of American Isolation in full view of the fact that certain of our Allies have sealed themselves hermetically against foreign contracts. Americans are told:

"All men are brothers." We are all members of one happy family. "If we are to enjoy universal and perpetual peace, we must rehabilitate and make secure all the nations of the world." And that we must sacrifice our sovereignty and substance to help create a lovely new world."

These arguments must mean something serious or the Internationalists would not give them such importance. What kind of Isolationism do they wish the United States to abandon for the alleged purpose of accomplishing peace?

Commercial Isolationism? Commercially we were less isolated prior to the war than any other people except the British.

Financial Isolation? We have more billions in other lands than any other two nations.

Diplomatic Isolation? We have always had all the official relations with other nations that international com

Last Camping Term Opens At East Brook

Girls Name Camps On First Night At Camp: Groups Work Begins Today

Naming their cabins with the titles of books, the campers opening the third term at East Brook camp gave playlets acting out the names of their groups on Tuesday evening, according to Carolyn Slade, camp director.

Webster's Dictionary wasn't left out of the list, which included "Alice in Wonderland," "The Three Bears," "Seven Peas in a Pod," "The Ugly Duckling," "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and "Are of Green Gables."

Signing up for the mushball, volleyball and badminton tournaments which are being run off every evening, the girls also selected their work groups for the next two weeks. Two dramatics groups have begun work on marionette shows, and another large group is working on a play, under the direction of Alice Gooding.

Music groups under Betty Spangler are working on songs from the operetta "The New Moon" as well as on camp songs, and sports groups under Peggy Hogan are playing a wide variety of outdoor games.

Besides taking turns being responsible for the raising and lowering of the flag, the campers also choose the officer of the day. The officer sees that all the activities continue as they should, and rings the bell at the end of the periods.

Oil Plants In Germany Bombed

British Airmen Inflict Heavy Damage On Several Synthetic Oil Plants

LONDON, July 19.—(INS)—RAF bombers carried out heavy attacks on Nazi synthetic oil plants at Scholvenbier and Wesseling in the German Ruhr valley last night, causing large explosions and fires, the Air Ministry announced today.

Earlier Allied headquarters announced that British planes, operating behind enemy lines in French Normandy, blasted vital railway and communications center, including Reims, 100 miles east of Paris, and Angoulême, 20 miles west of the Belgian border. Twenty-nine British planes were lost in these attacks.

The night assaults included an attack by British Mosquito planes on Berlin. The Mosquitoes, carrying two-ton blockbusters, hit the German capital for the second night in a row.

German radio reports said that Allied bombers were over western Germany early today and later, at 10:22 a. m., said the bombers were on their return flights over Bavaria and southwest Germany, according to the FCC.

The Nazis again sent their flying bombs against southern England today, including the London area, causing further casualties and damage.

It is doubtful if Americans yet realize the welfare, freedom and safety that we are asked to sacrifice; the misfortunes, the slavery and the dangers that we are asked to incur.

Such an effort to deceive and cajole a great people is without precedent in all history. The attempt to lead us to such a sacrifice is an insult to the nation, and affront to its intelligence, a challenge to its patriotism.

That some people, calling themselves Americans, should listen to such schemes for our own undoing and even applaud the plot that would assure our destruction on the altar of European Imperialism is a spectacle that should arouse to action every man who has an American soul.

Drouth Broken By Rains Today

Almost Half An Inch Of Rain Falls Over Two-Hour Period Here This Morning

Cooling life-giving rain, worth a million dollars to farmers and gardeners fell here this morning. It was the first real rain experienced in the city and other sections of the county since the early part of July.

Rain started falling shortly after 5 o'clock and continued over a two-hour period. At the water plant, the official weather report showed a downfall of .45 of an inch.

While this amount of rain would not penetrate down into the ground very far, it did a world of good to crops which were drying up and in danger of dying entirely from the dry hot weather experienced in the past month and a half.

If chrome chairs belonging to a breakfast set make marks on the linoleum, put a strip of adhesive tape on the bottom of each chair, and there will be no more marks on the floor.

Report Paralysis Cases Total Fifty

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—(INS)—Infantile paralysis victims in Pittsburgh today numbered 50 as health officers reported one new case from outside the city.

At Municipal hospital, meanwhile, physicians were watching closely the effects of penicillin treatments, Dr. Joseph Baird reported.

"The cases we have handled here without complications are very few. In those cases in which complications, such as pneumonia, have been present, the penicillin treatment has been beneficial."

Regarding those cases in which there are no complications, however, we cannot say that the penicillin treatment by itself has been helpful, although it may still be too soon to form a definite opinion. Generally, the opinion seems to prevail that penicillin treatment on infantile paralysis has no effect.

Thirty-three of the polio victims in Pittsburgh hospitals today are from the city itself, it was reported. The remainder are cases brought here from nearby areas.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis plans to appoint a physician to study charts of cases treated with penicillin at the end of the week and make a report sometime in the future.

Poles Ask Plank In Dem Platform

Didn't Buy Bonds To Help Any Allied Nation To Enslave Another, Claim

By WILLIAM THEIS
U.S. Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, July 19.—The voice of a free Poland was raised today before the Democratic convention resolutions committee with the Polish-American societies urging a foreign policy plank heaving close to the Atlantic charter and the four freedoms.

Charles Rozmarek, speaking for 6,000,000 Americans of Polish descent in an implied warning to Russia asserted that the eight million dollars in war bonds purchased by Polish-Americans was not contributed to "enable any Allied nation to enslave another."

"This money has been converted into lend-lease materials," Rozmarek declared. "We are sending lend-lease materials to our allies for one specific purpose—to defeat Germany and Japan—and not to enslave small nations in Europe."

Another war "is inevitable unless we stand by the Atlantic charter and the four freedoms."

We Americans willingly sent our children to battle fields because we were assured these war aims were to be unchangeable beacons guiding all the United Nations.

towards a better Democratic world. In a warning against aggression in Europe, Rozmarek insisted that the United Nations should not impose governments which do not meet with the beliefs of the governed nations.

DISABLED SOLDIER GIVEN DISCHARGE

Cpl. John W. Lally, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Lally, of 1019 Maryland avenue, who suffered back injuries in 1943, and received a second injury in a plane crash in Florida in January of this year, has been honorably discharged from service after spending 85 days in the station hospital, Buckingham Army Air Field, Fort Myers, Fla.

He arrived at the home of his parents in time to meet his brother Cpl. Joseph H. Lally, Jr., whom he had not seen for 18 months. The latter has returned to his unit at San Antonio, Texas.

day. We have strong armored and mobile forces away to the south and southeast and due east of Caen.

The American occupation of St. Lo was a great achievement. American soldiers have been writing off the enemy very well. We have undoubtedly written off a great deal of enemy stuff."

Lauds Yanks
Montgomery paid tribute to yesterday's operations by the Allied Air Force as a great example of the flexibility of airpower. On one day, he pointed out, planes bombed the heart of Germany, and on the next participated in the tactical battle of Normandy.

The British army's equipment is excellent. Gen. Montgomery said, stressing particularly its 17-pounder guns "which in every way are superior to any German anti-tank gun—and the soldiers know it."

"They think it's the cat's whiskers," he said, "—very good whiskers."

Montgomery also lauded the infantry which termed "the guts and backbone of the whole thing."

"They do their stuff a wonderful way," he said.

The general said that Allied casualties "have been almost negligible so far," but he concluded with this note of warning:

"There is a lot to be done yet on the western and eastern flanks."

Byrnes Refuses To Be Candidate

CHICAGO, July 19.—(INS)—James F. Byrnes, economic stabilization director, announced today that he will not accept the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

He said that his withdrawal from the race was "in deference to the wishes of President Roosevelt."

Byrnes sent the following letter to Burnett R. Maybank, chairman of the South Carolina delegation:

"Dear Burnett: In deference to the wishes of the president I ask that my name not be placed before the convention as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for vice president."

"The action of the delegation in declaring its support of me for this honor and in insisting that my name go before the convention is deeply appreciated."

"Sincerely yours, James F. Byrnes."

Pennsylvanians Split On Wallace

Guffey Insists Wallace To Get Most Of Keystone Vote, Score 41-21

By WATSON FENIMORE
U.S. Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, July 19.—A wide split in the Pennsylvania Democratic convention delegation on the vice presidential issue stood revealed today after anti-Wallace forces refused to be committed in caucus to support of Henry A. Wallace for re-nomination.

A 41-21 vote in favor of the vice president resulted at the meeting after the Wallace question unexpectedly was forced before the delegates by CIO President Philip Murray, delegate-at-large from Allegheny county.

U. S. Sen. Joseph P. Guffey, ardent Wallace advocate, refused, however, to accept the count as finally indicative of Wallace strength in the Keystone state contingent.

Guffey declared that the 13 delegates who did not vote on Wallace at the caucus and whose votes were included in the 21 "against" the Iowa—would vote for the vice president on the convention floor.

Claims 58-60
He estimated that Wallace eventually would get 58 or 60 of the Pennsylvania convention ballots despite the strong sentiment against him at the caucus.

Further action on Wallace by Pennsylvania was ruled out until vice presidential nominations have been made, however, by a resolution adopted by the delegates to reserve further expressions of sentiment on the question until that time.

State Democratic Chairman David L. Lawrence was about to bang his gavel signaling the end of a peaceful, cut-and-dried organizational caucus when Murray rose and precipitated the bitter fight over Wallace.

Declaring that Wallace had the unqualified endorsement of the CIO and would bring the greatest possible strength to the Democratic national ticket Murray first moved to have Pennsylvania delegation endorse the candidacy of Vice President Wallace for re-nomination.

When this motion subsequently was ruled out of order, Murray explained he wanted only an expression of sentiment from the delegates.

OUTFLANK NAZIS, TAKE HUGE PORT, POLES IN ANCONA

the Arno river at Pontedera and then swung sharply to the west, seizing the last important high ground before the port and then crashing into its home defenses.

According to preliminary reports, the Germans wrought great destruction upon the harbor of Livorno but the port is expected to be put back into operation for speedy unloading of Allied supplies and reinforcements.

A CBS broadcast heard in New York reported that virtually all Livorno's port facilities were destroyed. Practically everything that was not hit by our air forces in earlier bombings was wrecked by the Germans before they pulled out, CBS said.

The city was reported more thoroughly smashed than any large city thus far attacked by the Fifth Army, even more thoroughly than Naples, CBS added, "and there are indications that the place may be just as heavily mined just as thickly sown with dynamite."

Nazis Wrong
The Germans obviously anticipated a direct frontal assault from the south against Livorno along Highway One. They had mined and carried out demolitions along the Tyrrhenian sea coastal strip on a scale never before encountered by the Fifth Army in Italy.

But instead of attacking frontally, American infantry, ably supported by air and artillery, slugged its way over strongly fortified mountains and stubborn resistance which clearly demonstrated the Nazis' determined efforts to halt the advance.

While the Poles occupied Ancona and seized a large number of German prisoners and quantities of material, American forces of the Fifth Army gained control of a dominating hill position only three miles from the heart of the west coast port of Livorno (Leghorn).

Advances were scored all along the front as the ground forces under command of Gen. Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander pressed a full-scale attack all across the Italian peninsula.

American troops which swept up behind Livorno and advanced swiftly to the Arno river where they captured the town of Pontedera severed the direct Pisa-Florence roadway. The advance divided German forces remaining south of the river.

The Yanks, engaging the Germans in fierce fighting east of Livorno, moved up the slopes of Monte Dellupoggia, three miles from the center of the port.

Four Persons Suffer Slight Injuries In Accident In Front Of Bus Terminal

Four persons suffered slight injuries this morning when a bus said to have been driven by David K. Prazier, skidded on the slippery pavement at the corner of North Jefferson and North streets, about 5:30 this morning, and bumped into a light pole at the southwest corner of the street intersection, directly in front of the bus terminal.

None of those injured suffered serious hurts, two, Miss Betty Weiskircher, of 1134 Hemlock street, employee at the Jameson Memorial hospital and Raymond C. Smith, of R. D. 2, Miller avenue, being taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment.

Miss Weiskircher suffered injuries to her arm, and was hospitalized, while Smith came to the hospital at 7 o'clock for a dressing for a laceration of the right hand.

The ruling was handed down in a case involving four Montgomery Ward stores in Denver, Detroit, and Jamaica, N. Y., and represented a reversal of the decision recently made in the federal district court in Washington. It was expected that the company would appeal to the U. S. supreme court.

Motor Idlers Scored By ODT

Bus And Truck Drivers Urged To Shut Off Engines When Vehicle Is Stopped

Bus and truck drivers who waste gasoline by letting their motors idle while in terminals or on service routes are incurring increased public disfavor, letters received by the Office of Defense Transportation indicate according to District Manager Harry G. Boyd.

ODT has requested that bus and truck drivers cooperate in conserving gasoline by turning off their motors when vehicles are not in use."

Director J. Monroe Johnson said in a communication to Mr. Boyd. "However, letters of complaint still call attention to cases where fuel is consumed by idling motors, while motorists are restricted in travel by gasoline rationing."

Passengers Complain
Excessive operation of bus motors at terminals or rest stops is one of the main objects of complaint. In such cases, bus passengers often include motorists who have been compelled to store their cars for lack of gasoline, Colonel Johnson pointed out.

The critical shortage of gasoline with military demands stepped up on all fronts, makes it imperative that bus and truck drivers cooperate in insuring most efficient use of our limited civilian supply," Colonel Johnson said.

ODT officials realize the necessity for permitting motorists to run under certain conditions such as during extremely cold winter weather to prevent freezing of buses or trucks. However, they pointed out that under favorable weather conditions and especially during the hot summer months, motors should be shut off on all stops of from one to three minutes or more, depending on the type of equipment and conditions of vehicle parts.

in great strength in the Esquay-Esque sector. Fighting was reported in progress in the immediate vicinity of Villers-Bocage.

On the American-held portion of the battlefield the last of the German forces were cleared from the communications center of St. Lo.

The Yanks cut the St. Lo-Perriers road between the Tante and Vire rivers south of the village of Amigny which is in American hands.

The Americans captured Rampan two and one-half miles north-northwest of St. Lo.

An unfavorable turn in the weather appeared likely to cut down the aerial support which reached record proportions yesterday when some 7,000 tons of high explosives were hurled down upon the Germans during and as a prelude to the march by the British into the Orne river line.

Bombers Busy
Heavy bombers of the British Royal Air Force bombarded vital rail and communications center during the night to disrupt German efforts to bring up reinforcements. The attacking British squadrons lost 29 planes.

Headquarters revealed that during operations yesterday 15 German planes were shot down and a number of others destroyed on the ground.

The German radio reported that fresh allied forces had joined in the mounting battle in Normandy during the night, lending more vigor to the large-scale assault.

Field Marshal Gen. Guenther Von Kluge the Germans said sent some additional reserves into battle in an effort to stem the attack by the allies who were said to be using battering-ram tactics to shatter the German defenses.

Lieut. Gen. Kurt Dittmar, military commander of the Nazi agency DNB said that "enormous superior allied forces were being thrown into the battle in Normandy to attain a break-through deep into France."

New Coal Orders Issued By Ickes

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Fuel Administrator Harold L. Ickes issued orders today to safeguard coal supplies of domestic consumers in the District of Columbia and in southeastern states which depend almost exclusively upon south Appalachian mines for fuel.

Under a new regulation, retail dealers in these communities must be supplied before coal can be shipped to retailers in communities where alternative coals are available. The order is effective Aug. 1.

However, the war vital coke and by-products plants and the Great Lakes docks have priority over all retail dealers in purchasing southern Appalachian coal.

The bulk of the 16,000,000-ton soft coal deficit threatening the nation is in the southern Appalachian production region, and Ickes' action is intended to assure communities dependent upon this coal of 90 per cent of their normal supplies next winter.

British authorities estimated that Allied bombings of Europe had reduced by 40 per cent the production of German aircraft by the end of 1943.

Accuses Hitler Of Ignorance

General Edmund Hoffmeister, Captured By Russians Takes Sharp Issue With Hitler

MOSCOW, July 19.—(INS)—Adolf Hitler was accused again today of "bad strategy" on the Russian front—this time by one of his leading generals who was captured recently by Soviet forces.

Gen. Edmund Hoffmeister, commander of the 41st German tank corps, in a statement printed by all Russian newspapers, said the defeat of Nazi forces in White Russia is an example of "Hitler's ignorant command."

He took sharp issue with the fuhrer's orders to hold every inch of ground at all costs, but pointed out that as a soldier of the Reich, he had to obey the command from supreme headquarters.

Hoffmeister revealed that a number of high officers, including Col. Gen. Haider attempted to point out these errors to Hitler, but were rewarded only by removal from their posts and often from their commands altogether.

Reserves Insufficient
The captured general also said that while German troops penetrated deep into the Caucasus, the Reich did not have sufficient reserves to hold such large territory.

Older generals realized this but Hitler ordered them to hold the line, he said.

"I want to say a defeat in White Russia is an example of the fuhrer's bad command of Hitler," Hoffmeister declared. "When Marshals Von Brauchitsch, List and Von Rundstedt and others tried to point out errors, they were discharged."

The tank corps commander also said that Hitler was aware of the distrust of his generals, and that at a staff meeting last May, he promised them victory but did not say how it would be attained. He advised his generals to study the Nazi creed in order to hold out against all opposition.

Wolves Club Golf League To Get Underway Thursday Evening At Sylvan Heights

Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock regular dinner meeting of the Wolves club was held at The Castleton, a new member, Charles Capitola, being welcomed.

Angelo Frediani announced the golf league to start Thursday at 6:15 p. m. at Sylvan Heights.

Program Chairman James Lombardo was given a vote of thanks for his management of the picnic held and he in turn thanked his various committees.

An invitation was accepted from the Kiwanis club to attend the joint meeting on August 16 of all civic organizations. Paul Failla announced the second service men's shelter at the southeast corner of North Jefferson and West Grant streets.

Program Chairman James Lombardo announced the ladies' corn roast on September 3.

While their officers were quarrelling and shooting at each other the German rank and file were openly demanding to be sent back to Germany.

Several are reported to have been shot for expressing a wish to go and defend the fatherland which, as Goebbels has told them, is in imminent danger.

FIFTH AIRFORCE HEADQUARTERS, NEW GUINEA, July 15.—(Delayed)—(INS)—It is high time you were introduced to the newest of the "protected" organizations of this war, the "Goldbrick Papas" of Brig. General Warren G. Carter's Troop Carrier Command.

Membership in the organization is limited to those men who became fathers since arriving overseas. The purpose of the society is to discuss ways and means of raising children by mail.

Members of this great organization, who of course never have laid eyes on their progeny, calmly contemplate the responsibility of fatherhood—at a safe distance.

Not a single member of the "Goldbrick Papas" has experienced the travail of washing diapers or of walking the floor with little Six or Junior but that doesn't stop them from writing. They, with unruffled serenity, pen lengthy epistles of advice on the care and proper feeding methods of a future president or Joan of Arc.

Momma often writes back telling these sad bricks to stick to their Tommy guns but such replies don't move these composed goldbrick papas.

As one character put it: "This society is long on advice and short on work."

Proposed Canal Possible Source Of Contamination

Engineers Assert Canalization Would Result In Contamination

If the proposed stub-end canal from Rochester to Struthers, O., is dug, and the money for the job is included in the Current Rivers and Harbors Bill in Congress, there would be created a possible source of contamination injurious to the health of communities near the canal. This is the opinion of The Chester Engineers, a professional organization which has completed a survey of the proposed canal for the Upper Ohio Valley Association.

Touching upon this possibility the report has the following to say:

If the canal was constructed with the six locks and dams, and 400 cubic feet per second of water is required to operate the same, different conditions will exist both along the canal from Struthers to the junction with the Shenango river and in the Beaver river below the junction of the Mahoning and Shenango rivers. The sludge or organic sediment from the communities in Ohio will deposit in the pools formed by the dams and locks and will decompose and remove the oxygen from the water of these pools causing odors and fouling of the water of these pools causing odors and fouling of the water of the canal with toxic poisons. The surface of the pools will contain floating scum, oil, and greasy materials from the untreated sewage and industrial wastes and the appearance of the pools will not only be unsightly and offensive but will be dangerous to health if used for swimming and bathing.

Other Considerations

The sanitary angle of the canal is in itself important and because most of the canal would be in Lawrence and Beaver counties, these counties would get the most of the contamination. Only a short piece of canal is in Ohio, about three miles from the Pennsylvania-Ohio line to Struthers.

There are other angles, also important. First, the canal if built would cost Lawrence county, about 1½ million dollars, with no resultant good to the county, second it would tend to reduce employment among railroad men and truck operators. Why Lawrence county should be asked to pay for a waterway which would be of little or no benefit to it is not clear.

Over and above these angles is the fact that the water levels in the Mahoning are low in the summer. Just now there are dangerously low. How sufficient water could be impounded to make dams for a canal feasible or practical has not yet been made clear.

Basically the canal idea is a struggle between Pittsburgh and Youngstown steel interests. But Lawrence county is interested because Lawrence county would be in the position of having to pay for something of no value to it. Protests from citizens and organizations here are expected to go into Senators James J. Davis and Joseph P. Guffey asking that they oppose the proposed canal.

Red Cross Speaker To Explain Prisoner Of War Operation

Mrs. Claude D. Mickelwait Will Speak Here At Y.W.C.A. On August 1

Mrs. Claude D. Mickelwait, of Washington, D.C., a member of the national staff of the American Red Cross Prisoners of War Service, will speak here on Tuesday evening, August 1, at 8 p.m. at the Y.W.C.A. It was announced at the Lawrence county chapter house today by J. Glenn Berry, chairman.

Mickelwait's public address will explain the operation of the Red Cross Prisoner of War program. She will tell just what is being done to provide food, clothing, medical supplies, and information to American servicemen detained by Axis powers in camps and prisons.

Colonel Gabreski Will Return Home

OIL CITY, Pa., July 19—(INS)—The parents of Lt. Col. Francis S. Gabreski, America's leading air ace with 28 enemy planes to his credit, Tuesday received a letter from him stating:

"I've quit flying and I'm practically on my way home."

Further than that, however, the flier did not commit himself. Based in England, Gabreski broke the record when he downed his 28th plane July 6th.

Lions Hear About Cost Of Living As Compared To Wages

V. V. Johnston Gives Interesting Talk On Living Costs Compared To Wages

New Castle Lions Club members heard an interesting talk on the high cost of living as compared to the increase in wages at their noon luncheon meeting, Tuesday, in The Castleton, when they were addressed by V. V. Johnston, industrial engineer, with the Shelby Tube Company at Ellwood City. Mr. Johnston, at one time taught mathematics in the senior high school here.

Mr. Johnston stated that for many years, economists had tried to establish an index by which the cost of living and wages could be compared, so that their particular phenomena could be measured, but no success had been achieved until Irving Fisher evolved a formula during the days of World War One, which became a standard index and has been used since. Under his system, the comparison could be reached with but one-eighth of one per cent of error.

Using the wage index for the five year period preceding 1940, and the cost of living for this period, he presented a set of figures, showing that wages have increased 90.7 per cent, while living costs have risen but 24.1 per cent. Spendable earnings, however, meaning the net earning of the individual after deduction of social security, income taxes, and bond purchases, have increased but 43.6 per cent.

Guests of the club included Lt. Howard L. Smith, U. S. Army pilot of Westover Field, Mass. W. E. Stumpf, of Pittsburgh and C. W. Barnhart, of New Castle.

The final report of U. A. Leivo, showed that Lions Club bond salesmen had sold $117,699 worth of bonds during the Fifth War Loan Drive now coming to an end. Francis Sowersby won first prize, having sold $31,000 worth of bonds, while Ed. Wilson and Loy Patterson took second prize, the two together having sold $37,000 worth.

The club accepted an invitation to be guests of the New Castle Kiwanis Club on August 16, when Attorney C. E. Brockway, of Sharon will be the speaker.

ALBANY, July 19—(INS)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican nominee, has mapped plans for a special appeal to worker and businessmen who are concerned over what will happen when the cessation of hostilities terminates war jobs and war production.

The governor hopes to convince the country that the Republican party is better equipped to handle the job of reconversion from a wartime to a peacetime economy than is the New Deal.

His first objective is to unite his own party behind a specific program and then to sell that program to the nation. The initial step in formulating such a program has been taken in conferences between the Republican nominee and congressional delegations from four New England states.

To speak July 31

It will be developed further, July 31, when Gov. Dewey goes to Pittsburgh, center of the Steel and Coal Industries, to confer there with Republican members of Congress and with labor, business and agricultural leaders from Pennsylvania and nearby states.

The Pittsburgh visit will be made as a stopover on the governor's trip to St. Louis where, on August 2 and 3, the Republican nominee will confer with the Republican governors of 25 other states.

Gov. Dewey was asked if he expects to talk with John L. Lewis, head of the miners' union, or Philip Murray, head of the CIO while he is in Pittsburgh. He replied that he does not know yet all the persons whom he will meet there.

In regard to the postwar reconversion problem, Governor Dewey declared:

"Every day that brings us closer to the end of the war makes even more critical the problems of change-over from war production to peace production. Opportunity of jobs will be a matter of critical personal importance to 11,000,000 men and women returning from the armed services, as well as the millions of people in war industries."

LONDON, July 19—(INS)—United States bombers were engaged in sky battles by German fighters over the northern Reich and western Baltic areas Tuesday, the Nazi agency DNB reported.

Anti-aircraft defenses also went into action against the American raiders, DNB said.

The FCC recorded German broadcast reporting to the approach of allied raiding formations from the south, over the Austrian Tyrol and toward Bavaria.

Security Card Needs Same Care As Insurance

Social Security Account Assures Old
Age Income, Family
Benefits

A social security account number card shows that the worker has an insurance account with the United States Government—Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance. Insurance policies must be kept in safe places. The social security account card is evidence of a worker's insurance policy with the government. Give it the same care as your insurance policy, advises Edward J. Singer, manager of the Social Security Board's office at New Castle, Pennsylvania.

For every account number it gives out, the Social Security Board sets up a separate account. The number on the card is the same as the number on the account. With the worker's name, it identifies the account.

Family May Benefit

Old Age is not the only risk the account insures against. The purpose of this insurance is to pay not only a regular monthly income when workers are 65—and stop work, but to pay benefits to the family if the worker dies.

These monthly insurance payments are based on wages in the jobs that come under the old-age and survivors insurance system. Every day's pay on such a job helps to build up this family insurance protection. Be sure that these records are kept under one account number. If you lose your card, obtain a new card, but always keep the same number. If you have more than one number, go to the Social Security Board's office and give up all but one.

Account Should Record All Pay. When a worker or his family makes an insurance claim, his account should contain a complete record of his pay in work that comes under the social security system.

'Same Old Classic' Says Rupert Hughes

Democratic Convention Has Same
Managers Says Noted
Historian

By RUPERT HUGHES
Noted Historian and Biographer
(Distributed by I. N. S.)

CHICAGO, July 19.—This is a lovely clambake and chowder party, and I am enjoying it far more than I did the grueling four days of the Republican free-for-all in the same stage setting.

That was an improvised impromptu affair. This is a regular performance of the same old classic "all for one and one for all" with the same actor-manager expertly starting himself with the same adequate but reliable cast.

Palace Guard Watches

There is talk of a possibility of an effort by certain Philistines from the wrong side of the tracks to break into the theatre and try to bust up the show. But the palace guard is on watch and the performance will probably be run off without a hitch—though there may be a few hisses from the mugs in the gallery.

At the Republican convention I stood on one toe for three hours trying in vain to catch the eye of any of a swarm of frantic room clerks and implore him to give me the key to the room reserved six weeks in advance. I never got either the eye or the key, but I was in noble company. Governors and senators and highly important people were being ignored and brushed off just as I was.

Getting food was as difficult as getting a bed. Securing a seat in a restaurant was a matter of being first cousin to a head waiter, second cousins didn't get a look-in. The weather was an oven and nobody could call those Republican delegates half-baked.

Weather Cool. But now, possibly because the mayor of Chicago is a Democrat, the weather is as cool as the incumbent. There has actually been a little rain—but hardly a shower, only a drip as of tears from Columbus grieving over calling such a gathering as this a political convention.

It is more like an assembly of first sergeants summoned to headquarters to take down a set of orders from the commanding officer, dictated to and passed down to his adjutants.

At the hotels there are no lines of outcasts clamoring for shelter. The room-clerks are enjoying a vacation. In the deserted restaurants the lonely head waiters welcome you whether you are related to them or not.

Legion Asks Plant For World Peace

CHICAGO, July 19.—(INS)—The American Legion, through former Assistant War Secretary Louis Johnson, recommended to the Democratic platform committee Tuesday an American foreign policy of participation in an association of "free and sovereign nations" backed by "whatever force may be necessary" to preserve world peace.

Johnson was one of several representatives who appeared before the Democratic resolutions committee Tuesday night completed its hearings on domestic issues. He was followed by spokesmen for the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans.

Johnson's testimony was the first before the committee on foreign policy from any major organization. Paul C. Wolman of Baltimore, representing the VFW, told the committee the Democratic party must see that wars are ended—police the world with force if need be so that there be no dictators. Millard G. Rice, of the DAV, confined his testimony to domestic points in the veterans' program, much of which has been covered in the new "GI bill of rights."

Local Flyer Owes Life To Parachute

Bailing out at 3000 feet when his plane went into a violent spin, Carl W. Sherer, local flyer now stationed at Dale Mabry Field in Tallahassee, Florida, landed with three sections ripped out of his parachute and the shroud cords burnt.

The accident occurred when Sherer was flying a P-40 on a gunnery mission. He landed on the ledge of a woods, near a farm house from which he was able to call his base. Although the flyer was not injured, the burning plane was badly damaged.

Sherer, who is the brother of Mrs. F. L. Betts of Winter avenue, and the husband of Clara S. Sherer, has two brothers and a nephew in the Navy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Sherer of the Mount Jackson road.

Services Held For Former Minister

In remembrance of the fourth anniversary of the death of Rev. Angelo Fiala, orator of the Union Calabro-American Society, a group of officers of the club held services at Oak Park cemetery, Sunday at 2 o'clock.

Honorary member, Joe Zagami, gave the prayer and reading in Mr. Fiala's memory. A bouquet of flowers was offered from the group.

Officers present were: president, Joseph Lombardo; secretary, Frank Gillett; treasurer, Nino Audino; orator, Frank Dattilo; trustee, James Parco; and honorary member, Joe Zagami, personal friend of the deceased.

It has been found that the water which falls during the first part of a rain shower contains a considerable quantity of formaldehyde, known as an effective preservative and disinfectant.

TAXPAYERS RELUCTANT

County Treasurer Frank W. Hill states that there is a great reluctance on the part of taxpayers to get their taxes paid up this year, and up to the present time, they are about 15,000 tax cards behind last year. With less than two weeks remaining, in order to get their taxes paid and take advantage of the discount, there will have to be a tremendous onrush of taxpayers to catch up.

Perhaps many of the taxpayers feel that the discount they will receive is so small, it is not worth getting "het up" about.

For the accommodation of taxpayers in the outlying districts, Treasurer Hill has arranged to have deputies from his office sit in Ellwood City, New Wilmington and Bessemer in the near future.

Arrangements have been made to sit at the Ellwood City Boro building on Tuesday, June 25, for the accommodation of the Ellwood City taxpayers, and those from Wayne and Perry townships, and Ellport Boro.

On Friday, July 21, deputies will be at the Depositors National Bank from 8:30 a. m. until 12 noon, for the accommodation of New Wilmington taxpayers, and those from Washington, Pulaski and Washington townships, and Volant Boro. That same afternoon, deputies will be at the Bessemer State Bank from 1 to 4 p. m. Taxpayers from Bessemer and North Beaver and Mahoning townships will be accommodated.

Monday night, Mr. Hill kept his office open until 9 p. m. to accommodate local taxpayers and those from the rural section who might be in town shopping, and exactly 13 people took advantage of the courtesy. The last taxpayer came in at 7:25 p. m. and from then on until 9 o'clock they just sat there and twiddled their thumbs.

CONN ON VACATION

Chief Clerk A. Lewis Conn of the registration bureau is enjoying his vacation this week, which he is spending in the eastern part of the state. He will be back on duty next week.

There are over 26,000 miles of railways in France.

The missing navy man, who enlisted in the navy in March 1943 and left the country last April, is a nephew of Mrs. Earl Wimer, of Highland avenue.

His mother is a former resident of New Castle. She will be remembered here as Elizabeth Russell.

Swing Lobby Starts New Registration

Cards To Swing Lobby Issued High School Students; Floor Show Planned For Friday

The new permanent registration system which was begun at Swing Lobby last Friday evening will be continued at the Swing Lobby on Friday evening, July 21.

By this system cards of membership will be issued to seniors, juniors or sophomores of high schools of Lawrence county for a week's registration fee. One advantage of the new system is that it will speed up admittance at the door as the boys and girls who attend will not have to register each time, just show their cards.

During the summer months Swing Lobby is sponsored by the Lions Club. Hours are 8 to 11:30 p. m. at the Y. W. C. A.

Volunteer performers have been asked by the student committee in charge to put on a floor show during intermission at the dance Friday night. Althe Turner is chairman and Phyllis Burdette, co-chairman, and arrangements for this new feature.

Postwar Committee Meets At Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, July 19.—(INS)—The 10-member postwar planning commission will meet at the state capital tomorrow to assign projects to state departments for analysis and possibly elect an executive director.

Gov. Edward Martin and cabinet members have outlined postwar plans of their departments including highway development, public education, reforestation, and improvements in the state's system of penal institutions and hospitals.

Mark S. James of Pittsburgh was appointed by Governor Martin to the $10,000-a-year post shortly after the commission was established.

Extended Weather Forecast Is Given

(Extended Pennsylvania weather forecast July 19 to 23 issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau at Harrisburg.)

Rising trends today and tomorrow with temperatures hovering around 90 degrees in Western Pennsylvania and but not so warm in eastern sections. Cooler about Friday followed by warmer weather Saturday and Sunday with temperatures again around 90 degrees.

Frequent thunderstorms and showers until Friday in most sections of the state. Fair weather through Sunday.

Total rainfall averaging one-half inch in western counties and one inch in eastern sections.

Chicago Holdup Man Chagrined

Robs Taxi Driver, Then Calls Same Cabbie For Getaway, But Police Intervene

CHICAGO, July 19.—(INS)—The current shortage of taxicabs was shown today to have at least one advantage among its many inconveniences.

Edward Meyers, a Yellow Cab driver, was robbed of $16 by a hold-up man. A block away, he picked up Police Sgt. Fred Knott and was cruising about telling the officer all about it when the cab—the only one in the vicinity—was hailed by a man evidently in a big hurry.

It was the holdup man himself, who promptly was arrested. He identified himself as Gordon Shourds, 38, who lamented bitterly to the driver:

"You would be the cab I had to hail for my getaway—but it was the only one in sight."

Free China expects an increase in its cotton production this year.

Letters From Men On Opposite Fronts Arrive Together

Arriving together although written by men a hemisphere apart, two letters from Allied battlefronts were received by The News office in this morning's mail.

Echoing each other, the letters both expressed the interest a fighting man has in news from home. Beginning with the sports news in the home town paper, according to one man, he reads it through from the church page to the armed services column, and then shares the funnies with the other men.

By an odd coincidence, the writers of these letters which arrived together, one from New Guinea and one from Rome, have the same numbers in their home address. Pvt. Anthony Scaduto, stationed in the Pacific, lives at 408 Lyndal street, and Charles F. Drake, stationed in Italy, lives at 408 Meyer avenue.

Committee Named For Retail Merchants

Five members of the board of directors of the Greater New Castle Association have been appointed by M. G. Matheson, president of the association, as a committee to act on all matters specifically affecting the affairs of the retail merchants, such as store hours.

This committee is composed of the two members of the Retail Merchants Division who are on the Board of Directors of the Association as their representatives, and also two other merchants who are on the board, and the last president of the Retail Merchants Association. The members are: W. R. Voorhis, chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming, Emanuel Sherkman, S. H. McGoun, and J. O. Huston.

Educators Discuss Reading Abilities

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 19.—(INS)—A three-day conference of more than 500 educators on classroom problems including the "reading abilities" of school children opened today at Pennsylvania State College.

Dr. E. A. Betts, director of the college's reading clinic, said 25 per cent of Pennsylvania's school children were retarded by reading difficulties.

Speakers included Dr. Leversia Powers of the department of public instruction; Dr. Leo J. Brueckner of the University of Minnesota; and May L. Becker of the New York Herald Tribune.

Dies Of Fright In Dentist Chair

MIDDLEBORO, Mass., July 19.—(INS)—An official medical examiner's report disclosed today that 14-year-old Wayne S. Thomas died of fright in a dentist's chair yesterday before an aching tooth could be extracted.

The boy was accompanied to the dentist's office by his mother but was shaking with fear when he sat down in the chair and collapsed and died before the dentist, Dr. F. L. Rounds, had time to begin treating the offending tooth.

Shenango Firemen Are Kept On Duty

Taking it easy through most of the dry weather of the past two months, volunteer firemen of the Shenango fire department have been kept busy during the last two weeks by frequent grass and brush fires, according to Walter Waddington, member of the department.

A brush fire at the cemetery on Weller Hill on Tuesday, and a fire on Monday at the Webster Manufacturing company, caused by some oil catching fire, kept up the record of a fire almost every day.

German Prisoner Still At Large

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—(INS)—Harry T. O'Connor, head of the FBI Pittsburgh office, today requested that he be notified if any person is able to furnish information about a German prisoner of war, who escaped yesterday from a detention camp at North East, Pa.

The escaped prisoner, Heinz Tolze, is 23 years old, weighs 135 pounds and is five feet seven inches tall. He was clad in a blue denim uniform, allotted to prisoners of war by the American army. He does not speak English.

The poem "Ben Bolt" was written by Thomas Dunn English.

No Beer, No Nothin', For Dem Delegates

CHICAGO, July 19.—(INS)—"Happy days are here again," which 12 years ago ushered in the Democratic endorsement of repeal of the 18th amendment, changed today to "How dry I am."

Not even a short beer greeted the 1,179 delegates, the alternates and the thousands of enthusiastic Democratic well-wishers who gathered in the Chicago Stadium today. Beer and whiskey were banned officially, and the decision, as far as dry-throated delegates could discern, came straight from their national chairman, Robert E. Hannegan.

When cornered on the question, Hannegan said, in apparent amazement, "Is that a ruling?"

Told that party treasurer, Edwin W. Pauley, had declared that Hannegan had made the ruling, Hannegan firmly asserted, "If it's a ruling, it's a ruling."

And Democrats joined in a thirsty wait with J. G. Grouzard, stadium concession manager, who had 96,000 bottles of beer and 20 barrels of draft beer on hand for the assuaging of parched political throats.

Delegate Fatally Scalded In Hotel

CHICAGO, July 19.—(INS)—John F. Nolan, of Steubenville, O., a delegate to the Democratic national convention, was fatally scalded in the shower bath of his Chicago hotel early today.

Nolan, aged 53, prominent in Democratic politics in Ohio, died in the "Waltham" Memorial Hospital where he was taken for treatment.

Mrs. Nolan, who accompanied him to Chicago, said that her husband entered his shower for a bath just before retiring early this morning.

America is still

THE LAND OF PLENTY

THE two things on which this nation relies for food—farmers to grow it, railroads to move it—have again come through.

Farmers have seen their fine young sons go off to war; but with the help of the women folks and the smaller boys and girls they've been out there tending and harvesting one of the largest crops ever to come to market.

And the railroads, while shouldering the greatest war load in history, have mobilized the cars to move those crops... at low prewar freight rates, too!

Garden Club Picnic Dinner At Cascade

Members of the Mahoningtown Garden club gathered on Tuesday afternoon, in the grove at Cascade Park.

A picnic dinner was served at 12:30.

Asst. Scoutmaster Leaves For Service

Assistant Scoutmaster William E. Weitz, Jr., of Mahoningtown Boy Scout troop V-4 expects to leave for New Cumberland on Sunday, where he will report for regular duty in the U. S. army. Bill enlisted in the service immediately.

following his graduation from New Castle high school in June.

He has also been attached to the Pennsylvania State Guard and held the rank of sergeant, and recently underwent a week's intensive military training at Indiantown Gap.

Weitz's going into the service will leave the local scout troop without a leader, he having been with the group for six years.

It would be well for those in the ward who are interested in its civic advancement to secure a capable person to take up this work where Bill has left off, as it is indeed a worthy effort toward the boys' uplift.

On account of the breakfast and picnic next Wednesday, the regular meeting of the lodge will be dispensed with.

Few Housing Changes
Just After The War

HARRISBURG, July 19.—(INS)—Housewives were warned today against anticipating "extreme" housing improvements immediately after the war.

Words Of Wisdom

The true art of memory is the art of attention.—Johnson.

The jaws and gums are important because they hold the teeth firmly in place. The same food substances—calcium, phosphorus, vitamins A, C and D—that promote normal development of teeth, also aid in the formation of strong jaws and firm, healthy gums.
